NO GREAT CHANGE At Present IN EDUCATION DEPT.

JAMES C. DAVIS,
Hawaii's New Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SUPT. DAVIS TALKS OF PLANS

"You know that Miss Rose Davison has resigned as assistant secretary of the Department and school agent for Honolulu," said Superintendent of Public Instruction J. C. Davis this morning. "Beyond this there will be no changes in the personnel of the department at present."

Mr. Davis was reminded that "at present" is a very abstract term and asked to define it more closely.

"Well, at present in this case means until I can look into matters thoroughly and see if any further changes are necessary," said the Superintendent.

Mr. Davis was asked who would fill the places left vacant by the resignation of Miss Davison and by his own promotion from the position of inspector of Oahu and Kauai.

"Regarding Miss Davison's position I have nothing to say. I can not say who will be her successor. The only thing I can say is that it will be filled immediately. Regarding the position as inspector of Oahu and Kauai I can only state that the man to fill it will be chosen from the ranks of teachers in the way of promotion. I have no special person in view. There will be a meeting of the Board of Education tomorrow at which this matter will be brought up and decided."

"Have you in view in any changes in the system and methods now employed by the department?" asked the reporter.

"No, I have not," answered Mr. Davis. "I consider that the Hawaiian school system is at present as good as it can be under the prevailing circumstances, though it of course, like any system of its kind, is liable to improvement."

The new Superintendent went on to say that he would in the administration of the department try to be absolutely fair and impartial to every one, and would take special pains to promote the welfare of the Hawaiians. He stated further that he would at all times give all information desired to the press and have the workings of the department absolutely open. It was a public institution and the public had a right to know all about it.

Secretary Rodgers was asked whether he intended to resign or not. He answered that he had absolutely nothing to say in the matter.

Former Superintendent A. J. Atkinson was present at the department offices this morning to wind up unfinished business and turn books and other matters over to his successors.

WILKIE COMMITTEE FAILS TO SECURE HARMONY

The Wilkie Committee met at 2 p. m. for a last attempt to secure harmony. The press representatives who came to attend the meeting were excluded. Chairman McCandless stating that the committee was going to deliberate on reports and did not desire their presence. The meeting was held behind closed doors.

Shortly after its opening Hayselden was excused in order that he might attend a meeting of another committee. At 3 o'clock the meeting was still in session both the reports of McCandless and Lane and of Hewitt and Hayselden being read. While McCandless and Lane refused to sign any other report than their own or to amend theirs by striking out reference to Pinham, Henry and Dr. Cooper, Hewitt and Hayselden on their side resolutely stood by their report and the attempt at harmony failed utterly. Gaudin had still not decided on what action he would take, but from the trend of his remarks it seemed certain that he would not sign the McCandless report. He may either sign the Hayselden report or make one of his own. The former seems the most probable.

MIOWERA FROM COLONIES

Carrying one hundred and fifty-eight passengers, the Canadian-Australian liner Miowera came into port today and docked at Bishop's wharf at 1:40 this afternoon.

The Miowera had rather nasty weather nearly all the way from Australia, though no heavy storms were encountered. The vessel left Sydney on March 29th; from there till Brisbane the weather was fine. Departed from Brisbane March 22nd at midnight, and from there on experienced strong N. E. and E. S. E. winds, with squally weather, and high head sea. Ship was left at noon March 28th, and cloudy weather with heavy sea encountered. A short stop was made at Hull Island, March 30th, to discharge some freight. Strong N. E. winds and squally weather with continual high head sea attended the liner until this morning.

The Miowera carries only four passengers for this port: Mr. J. Richardson, Mr. A. Noebels, Mrs. E. Richardson and Miss C. L. Richardson. The through passenger list contains a large number of colonists returning to their English homes. Among this number is a party of sixteen Quakers from New Zealand. They are leaving their permanent home to make England their permanent home. Some of them have been in New Zealand since childhood. The Miowera carries only about 8 tons of freight for this port. The through cargo is general, including a

CENTENNIAL GOESSOUTH CARRIES LUMBER TO SAN FRANCISCO

Reported That Olympia May Be The Vessel To Carry Japanese Laborers To Coast.

Reports from the Coast state that the steamer Centennial, whose much-advertised trip to this port to carry Japanese to the Coast, has been a fruitless topic of discussion for several weeks, is not coming here for that purpose. In fact the Centennial is not coming here at all, at least not for some time. The Centennial sailed from Seattle on the night of March 25, but she did not head for this port. She sailed for San Francisco with a cargo of lumber.

This news was brought by the freighter Oregonian, which arrived here this morning. The Centennial and the Oregonian lay side by side at the Tacoma wharf, and the crew of the Centennial did not know that they were coming to Honolulu. They knew the vessel was to leave for San Francisco with lumber. That was where the vessel cleared for on the same night the Oregonian left for Honolulu.

The mystery is not solved, however, for the current report on Puget Sound is that the steamer Olympia is coming here to take the Japanese laborers to the Coast. That report has gained ground until it is firmly believed in Sound ports. The Olympia sailed from San Francisco for Seattle at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of March 20th, and was due to arrive in Seattle March 23rd with 1000 tons of cement. The steamer had not arrived when the Oregonian left on the night of March 25th, but was hourly expected.

According to reports from some of the officers of the Oregonian, it was a common topic of conversation that the Olympia was coming to Hawaii to carry Japanese laborers either to Seattle or San Francisco.

There yet remains the possibility that the Centennial is coming here on her mission after she leaves San Francisco.

HAWAII DID BETTER Than Any Other PART OF THE NATION

GEORGE B. McCLELLAN,
Secretary to Hawaii's Delegate to Congress.

SECRETARY McCLELLAN REVIEWS WORK

"Hawaii was one of the best-treated States or Territories in the Union at the session of Congress just closed," said George B. McClellan, secretary to Delegate Kuhio, to a Bulletin reporter this morning.

"Compared with such great States as New York, California, Illinois and Pennsylvania, we received more legislation as well as a larger total of appropriations, in proportion, on a basis either of corporate population, wealth, area or payments to the Federal Treasury, than did either of them. When we consider that each of these States has a large and powerful delegation to work for it in Congress, while our representative has not even a single vote, the credit due our Delegate for the results achieved is all the more apparent."

"Prince Kuhio has in the work of this session met the expectations of his friends and ended his first term in Congress by securing for the Territory of Hawaii legislation of the first importance and of enduring value to our island community. The Delegate began the work of this session with energy, and he has followed it up not only to a successful finish, but has also done his work in a quiet and self-respecting manner that has added to his list of friends both in the House and the Senate. Nothing helps a Congressman in the good opinion of his fellow members more than the getting of substantial results for his own district; and with the large results of this past session and the experience of two years to help him, Delegate Kuhio will be in even stronger position to do satisfactory work for the Territory during his second term in Congress. Pull Together."

"It goes without saying that no member of Congress can do good work without the backing of his constituency. To my mind one of the most hopeful things in the past session was the extent to which all those who were working for Hawaii's measures pulled together. Perfect team work was not achieved by considerable; but the substantial success gained was sufficient to show what may be done by backing up the Territorial Delegate in his work, and carefully rallying the friends that Hawaii has in Congress. The object lesson of the past session should be sufficient to show to all fair-minded men that the Territory's best interests can be served only by supporting in good faith the elected representative of the Territory at Washington. To seek to belittle and discredit him while he is officially and in good faith carrying on the work for which he was elected, can only result in injury to the Territory. Talk is cheap, but results count; and the substantial results gotten for the Territory at the past session are the best proof of the wisdom of the majority opinion which returned Prince Kuhio to Congress for a second term."

Kuhio's Speech.
"The interest of Congress in Hawaii and her Delegate was shown in the close attention given to Prince Kuhio's first speech on the floor of the House. Committee Chairmen were also very courteous in giving hearings on Hawaiian measures; and the most important work of a Territorial Delegate will always be the work before committees and with individual chairmen and members and not upon the floor of the House."

Harbor Appropriation.
"One of the most important facts in regard to our large harbor appropriation is that it is made without any conditions such as were attached to those of Tacoma, Milwaukee and other harbors. General Mackenzie assured us before our departure from Washington that it was the best of all.
